SPARK: Simple Play Adaptations to Reference for Kids

Click Builders Prism Jr.

(Light Box Kit – EC COE)

Description:	Image:
Click Builders Prism Junior consists of a 72-piece set of chunky, translucent interlocking building blocks (similar in shape and size to Legos) which can be connected and taken apart again to build new things. The transparent pieces come in blue, green, yellow, red, purple, and orange with the smallest block size 1.25 inches. Because the blocks are translucent, they can be placed on a light box to illuminate them.	 Purchasing Information

Why Use?

Provides an opportunity to…

- Practice building and taking apart block structures.
- Explore shapes and colors.
- Work on fine-motor skills
- Develop creative-thinking and problem-solving skills.

Instructions for Use:	Adaptation Ideas:
Environmental Considerations • When using the blocks with a light box, consider turning overhead lights off. Positioning • These blocks can be used on a flat surface while the user is in a variety of positions (sitting, standing, kneeling on tummy), however it is important that the user(s) are able to view them and reach them easily. • When using a light box for low vision, proper positioning is crucial for maximizing its benefits and minimizing glare. The light box should be placed in a darkened area, away from direct sunlight or other bright light sources. The light box and blocks should be positioned at a distance and angle that allows for comfortable viewing and minimizes reflections. Extended Play/Use • Sort by color or shape

Additional Considerations:

- Small blocks could be a choking hazard.
